Volume 38 Number 7 March 2024

"The most difficult thing is the decision to act, the rest is merely tenacity." (1897-1937?), aviation pioneer Amelia Earhart)

Leave it to a woman to speak that truth! As we move into the month of March, we celebrate an entire month dedicated to women. Since March of 1987, the US has this month to honor women everywhere, emphasizing the philosophy that "When we inspire others to understand and value women's inclusion, we forge a better world." (www.internationalwomensday.com)

Likewise, the United Nations has sponsored International Women's Day on March 8th since 1975 in order "to recognize the fact that securing peace and social progress and the full enjoyment of human rights and fundamental freedoms require the active participation, equality and development of women." (www.un.org) Wow! That's more than just a "tip of the hat" to the ladies of the world!"

Now, let's reminisce a bit about the contributions of special women in our own lives, inspiring us to push through the difficult times and to feel comfortable in our own tenacity. Sometimes it's the ordinary role model from our family who unknowingly inspires, without even trying. I think of my Grandma Rose with her shoulder-to-knees apron over a handmade housecoat, surviving the Depression on the farm (now known as Mid-Vallee Golf Course, by the way) sewing whatever she could out of flour sacks, cooking with imagination, making blood sausage, and serving pigs feet and scrapple when they had a pig to butcher. Mother of 12, she soldiered on!

And of course, my mother, Fran, the youngest of those 12, always expressing her ingenuity, updating the décor of our home by moving the furniture a LOT, sewing all my clothes, being spontaneous with a creative flair such that the Christmas tree was decorated with an impressive handmade theme each year. But also cooking, cleaning, budgeting, never complaining.

The ordinary "women heroes" that we've all had the good fortune to witness in our lives stand right up there with the Amelia Earharts of the world. So, while we often honor and pay tribute to icons like Marie Curie, Rosa Parks, Frida Kahlo, Mother Teresa, Nelly Bly, Wilma Mankiller, Malala Yousafzai, Madeleine Albright, Sally Ride, Shirley Chisholm and so many, many, more this month, let's remember the words of Maya Angelou: "Each time a woman stands up for herself, without knowing it possibly, without claiming it, she stands up for all women."

A Journey Through Time: The Evolution of AAUW

Wednesday, February 28, 7 p.m. ET

Join us for the AAUW National Inclusion & Equity Committee webinar on AAUW's history.

The webinar is designed to highlight pivotal points in AAUW's history that turned us into the organization we are today. Our featured speaker is Jessica Miller, AAUW Archivist, as she discusses both larger organizational changes and individual trailblazers who shaped our current structure.

Voting on AAUW Bylaws opens April 3rd

Our AAUW: Wisconsin State Convention is around the corner!!

You've probably read about this year's convention in Badger Briefs, which should have appeared in your email on February 6th. The convention is a great way to learn more about AAUW's mission and the kinds of work that branches throughout our state are doing to achieve that mission. It's also a wonderful opportunity to meet many like-minded women whose energy and spirit are inspiring.

The Appleton AAUW Branch offers a $50 stipend as a partial reimbursement of the cost of registration to any member who attends. Keep reading for more information from AAUW Wisconsin. (Complete information and registration link available here)

Hope to see many of our members there!!

Branch Program & Meeting—April 9th

Membership News

New Members: Welcome to our newest members, Kathryn Herzog and Ann Dawson. Kathryn and Ann, we look forward to your involvement in AAUW. Current members, be sure to introduce yourself to Kathryn and Ann at the Branch Meetings so they can get to know you!

Change in AAUW Degree Requirement Vote: This spring AAUW members will be asked to vote for the AAUW Board of Directors and Governance Committee recommended approval of the bylaw amendment to eliminate the degree requirement for membership in AAUW. This change will align AAUW's membership practices with our purpose of advancing equity for women and girls and enable us to include members with the diverse backgrounds and perspectives needed to achieve our purpose in today's world.

They also state that AAUW remains committed to higher education as a pathway to eliminate barriers that hold women back and to enhance their leadership opportunities at all levels. We admire the effort of the inspiring women who have led the way in earning their degrees. We recognize, however, that in today's world higher education degrees are one of several paths needed to advance equity for women and girls. Professional certifications, on the job training, career technical experience and life experience all are alternative paths to obtaining education and the skills needed to become leaders and advocates for ending discrimination against women.

Online Voting will open April 3 and ends at 11:00 am. May 15. You will receive a voting email from vote@simplyvoting.com. Each member will receive a unique voter ID and password. Members without emails will receive paper ballots. We encourage your participation! If you have any questions or would like more information, please contact us!

Your Membership VPs, Linda Buck, Jayne Heinrich

Note to Tech Savvy Volunteers:

Thanks to all of you who sent in applications to assist at Tech Savvy on March 9. We will be contacting you each individually on or shortly after March 1 with your specific assignments for that day. You are also invited to attend an orientation at the University on Friday, March 8 at 1:00 pm. If you are not able to attend the orientation, we will make sure you get the information you need for Saturday. It is also not too late to volunteer. The application is on our website. Just a reminder, all steering committee members need to have an application on file. Questions? Contact Judy Phillips or Mary Grace.

Thanks for volunteering!

On Monday, February 5th, Mid-Day Women's Alliance in partnership with other partner organizations in the Women's Action Coalition held a press conference to announce the bill introduction for the Wisconsin state Equal Rights Amendment to our state constitution. Wisconsin State Representative Lori Palmeri, the lead bill author, introduced the proposed amendment, which is much broader than the original ERA, ensuring equal rights for all under the law because "after more than 50 years, it's embarrassing that ANY Wisconsinite has fewer rights than another." State Representative Lee Snodgrass, the co-author, added her support.

We were honored to have one of Appleton's first feminists, Mary Ann Rossi, share the history of the WI ERA and local feminist movement with a crowd of over 50 people in attendance. We also heard from the generation that will inherit our past and current decisions: Megan Eisenstein, a government major from Lawrence University spoke on the rights she lost with the Dobbs decision because she came to college in Wisconsin vs staying in Illinois, and how she dreams of the day when equal rights will be restored to millions of people in the state.

We also heard from WAC partner organizations, Linda Bjella of the League of Women Voters of Appleton-Fox Cities, Becky O'Connor of AAUW-Appleton, and Julie Keller of Women's Fund for the Fox Valley Region.

Keeping the Equal Rights Amendment in the National Conversation – Chris Taylor

As we know, in 2020, the 38th state ratified the ERA satisfying the requirement to become a constitutional amendment. The Trump Administration prevented certification of the Amendment, stating it missed the congressional deadline. AAUW contends there is no deadline because Congress extended the deadline once, so they can extend it again.

Please consider going to the AAUW National Website and writing a "two-minute activist" to affirm the Equal Rights Amendment. It literally will take you two minutes to complete the activity.

More about the Equal Rights Amendment

From AAUW:

To guarantee equality, individual rights, and social justice for a diverse and inclusive society, AAUW advocates the passage and ratification of the Equal Rights Amendment.

Also,

"The progress our country has made on gender equity through the courts and the patchwork legislation can be reversed. The ERA would clarify, once and for all, that sex discrimination in employment and wages, reproductive rights, insurance, Social Security, education, and more is a violation of constitutional rights."

Thoughts on the Proposed Wisconsin ERA

Are you just a little unsure of the need for this new Equal Rights Amendment proposed for our Wisconsin constitution? I was, and so I did a little research and thought it might be of interest to some of you. First, of course, a little history is in order.

The 19th Amendment to the US Constitution was added in 1920. That amendment only removed barriers to voting that had been based on gender, but said nothing about the rest of women's lives. To address equity issues in a broader way, the Equal Rights Amendment was introduced in 1923, and every Congressional session from then until 1970. That year it finally passed both houses of Congress and was endorsed by President Nixon, and then sent to the states for ratification. At least 38 states needed to ratify it before it could be added to the Constitution, and a deadline was set. That deadline was extended once, but the effort fell short by 3 states within that time period. For a few years nothing happened, but more recently, the effort was revived. From 2017-2019, Nevada, Illinois, and Virginia ratified it, so the necessary 38 states have given their approval. There is a continuing effort to remove the ratification deadline, but that has not yet been achieved, so the US Constitution does not address discrimination based on sex.

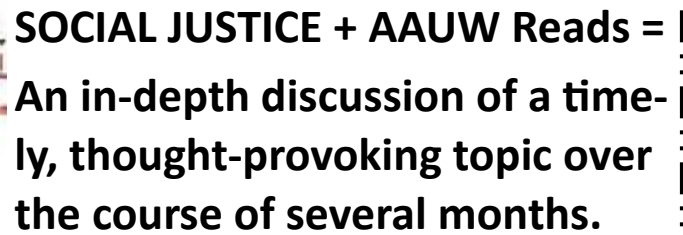

I was wondering about where Wisconsin was in all this. We were an early ratifier of the ERA, in 1972, but we have never added a similar amendment to our own state constitution. That is what Representative Palmeri is seeking to do.

Why? Aren't we already protected by laws of equity? No, we really aren't. There is nothing in our constitutions, state or national, that specifically prohibits sex discrimination. Supreme Court Justice Antonin Scalia had publicly stated that is true. Our rights as women are not constitutionally equal to the rights of men. Without such protection, there is no constitutional basis for claims of gender-based violence, for one compelling example.

I grew up proud that my country was a leader of equality under the law for all its citizens. I'm proud and eager to work to make that a reality. I think personal conversations are as powerful as anything to spread the word about the ERA for Wisconsin, so I hope you'll find this little background helpful.

Many of you remember hearing Dasha Kelly Hamilton present at our AAUW-WI State Convention. You may be interested in the upcoming event sponsored by the League of Women Voters of Appleton-Fox Cities.

Come for "Makin' Cake," Come Back for "Truth Evolution"

Through a special partnership with the Fox Cities Performing Arts Center, the League has two great opportunities for our members and communities to delve into race, culture and bias issues in creative and engaging ways.

Both are the work of writer, performance artist, curator and facilitator Dasha Kelly Hamilton. She also is a former Artist of the Year and Wisconsin Poet Laureate, so she packs plenty of energy into the presentations — and brings the audience into the creative process along with her.

The first presentation, Makin' Cake, is part of the PAC's Spotlight Series and requires ticket purchases. The second program, Truth Evolution, is made possible through the collaboration between the PAC and the League, with support from Community First Credit Union. While attendance at Makin's Cake is not required to participate in Truth Evolution, it is recommended. There is no cost to attend Truth Evolution, although registration is requested. Both presentations will take place in the Kimberly-Clark Theater at the PAC.

Makin' Cake with Dasha Kelly Hamilton | February 27 | Fox Cities Performing Arts Center

Dasha Kelly Hamilton's "Makin' Cake" spoken word performance will give you reason to pause and examine life through new lenses. Audiences will be served layered storytelling about race, culture, and class through the eyes of baking and American history. The performance will be followed by a cake reception and discussion on stage.

Illuminating Women is a photographic and written-word exhibit that seeks to bring the stories of 30 incredible women from the Appleton area into focus. The women are diverse in backgrounds, ages, and work, yet they all are a gift to their community. Juliane Troicki and Laura Schneider collaborated to create the exhibit, and are on a quest to take this concept to celebrate women in communities everywhere. Laura Schneider is the photographer, Juliane Troicki the storyteller.

Celebrate International Women's Day at the Trout Museum of Art!

International Women's Day is coming to Appleton! The Trout Museum of Art in downtown Appleton will offer free admission all day on Friday, March 8. There are three exhibitions: Illuminating Women, Nort, and The Body Problem. You are also invited to stay for a free panel discussion highlighting some of the inspiring women featured in the Illuminating Women exhibition. You are welcome to visit the museum at your convenience that day, but especially at 4:00 so we can enjoy the exhibit together. The panel discussion will begin at 5:00 pm. If you plan to attend the panel discussion, use the link on the Trout Museum website to RSVP to ensure you have a chair to sit on.

If you'd be interested in having dinner out afterwards with other AAUW members attending, contact Faye Binsfeld and let her know that you'll be attending.

Equity and Inclusion and AAUW: Why this bylaw vote matters—Judy Goodnight

Since July I've been serving as a branch representative for Equity and Inclusion at both state and national committee meetings. The subjects of equity and inclusion are top priorities for our organization which is why this year's bylaw change vote is so very important. If you review our MISSION (To advance gender equity for women and girls through research, education, and advocacy), our VISION (Equity for all), our VALUES (nonpartisan, fact-based, integrity, inclusion, & intersectionality), and our FOCUS (education & training, economic security, leadership), nowhere do we advocate that these apply only to women who have obtained a degree or girls who can expect to attend college & get a degree. We advocate on behalf of ALL who identify as women and girls. If you surveyed every AAUW member who has served as a Membership VP and asked them if they have ever had to turn away someone who wanted to be a part of AAUW but didn't have a degree or if they knew someone who would jump at the chance to join AAUW but for lack of a degree, I bet you that close to 100% would say yes, that had happened. Can we honor those courageous women of the past who pioneered earning degrees and founded this organization? Absolutely! Can we expand their vision and accept as members women without degrees who share the same MISSION, VISION, VALUES, and FOCUS to help us fight the tough battles for gender equity? YES, we can!

AAUW Appleton Branch Meeting via ZOOM
February 8, 2024
35 Members Present

President Chris Taylor welcomed everyone to the meeting. Paulette Stoltzmann introduced our guest speaker Dr. Marissa Jablonski who spoke about "Engaging Young People in STEM."

Business Meeting: There was a motion made by Cheryl Reissmann and seconded by Sylvia Bull to accept the minutes from the 1/9/2024 Branch Meeting. Motion passed.

Finance Report: Jackie Booher reported that we have $22,753.53 in our checking account and $36,457.66 in our Scholarship Money Market account.

Program V.P. Paulette Stoltzmann informed us that the March 5, 2024 Branch Meeting will be held at the First Congregational UCC. The speaker will be Heather Chantelois-Kashal, who will speak about Fox Valley Literacy.

Membership V.P. Linda Buck reported that we have two new members. She also reported that voting on the change in degree requirement for members will be held this spring between April 3 and May 15. The vote will be online. To pass 62 percent of the membership needs to vote in favor, so all members need to vote.

Tech Savvy: Stephanie Malaney, Mary Grace, Judy Phillips:

Forty students have signed up so far. Volunteers are still needed. The deadline for volunteering is March 1. Volunteer forms must be filled out and returned to Judy Phillips. See the website or January newsletter for that form.

Public Policy: Stephanie Malaney: Currently AAUW-Wisconsin is working on a resolution on anti-racism to be voted on at the State Convention. Chris Taylor also suggested that members read page 5 of the February newsletter to learn more about DEI and the two-minute activist information.

Funds Development/Scholarships: Mary Grace

The Ellie Olson Scholarship of $6,000.00 has been designated to be given to local scholarship applicants. Members are encouraged to help publicize the scholarships and suggest qualified students apply.
